HEAR TESTIMONY
ON CONTESTS.*Republican Committee Meets Earlier Than Usual.*Date Set Twelve Days in Advance of Convention.*A Rule Devised to Fix South's Representation.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, May 8.—The Republican National Committee will meet in Chicago Thursday afternoon, June 1, to decide contests among delegates to the Republican National Convention.

The call for the meeting was issued today by Secretary William Hayward.

This will be the earliest meeting held for many years by the committee, and will give it twelve days in advance of the convention opening on June 18.

Indications that there will be an unusual number of contests this year, Mr. Hayward announced he would place before the committee his plan that will effect the representation of the South.

The principal objection to plans previously suggested, he said, was the elimination of the Congress district as the unit of representation.

The plan he will submit would change the basis of representation, and still retain the Congress district as the unit.

The contests probably will be taken up as before, in alphabetical order of States.

"The question of southern representation that has been agitated in every convention that I can remember," Mr. Hayward said, "probably will be acted upon by the committee in the nature of a recommendation to the convention. While, in my opinion, a majority of the delegates to the convention are heartily in favor of making a change in that regard, the difficulty has been that they did not desire to abandon the Congress district as a unit of representation."

RYAN ACCUSES HARMON.

Goos into the "Enemy's Country" to Do It and Finally Smokes "Uncle Joe" Out.

FINDLAY (O.) May 8.—Col. William J. Bryan in his speech here today said that since coming into the State he has obtained a letter in evidence that Gov. Harmon is favored by "Wall Street."

"I have stated that in 1908, Gov. Harmon still hoped to be the Wall Street candidate for President that year. As late as June, 1908, his friends hoped to nominate him notwithstanding two-thirds of the delegates had been instructed for me. His friends tried to persuade me that I should not have been instructed for him."

"I do not say that Mr. Harmon authorized his friends to buy delegates, but I challenge him to deny in writing that his friends did try to buy votes. If any man will furnish me with a written denial signed by him, I will produce the letter of which I have a copy, showing that the money which was to have been used to purchase delegates was to come from New York and the men who were to furnish it were prominent in Wall Street."

HARMON SMOKED OUT.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

COLUMBUS (O.) May 8.—(By A. P. Night Wire.) Gov. Harmon in his statement today denying the charge made by Mr. Bryan at Findlay, "I most emphatically deny," he said, "that any one authorized by me or by my authority, attempted to purchase any delegates to the Denver convention in 1908."

KANSAS STEAM ROLLER WORKS.

Insurgents Refuse to Grant Taft Republican Fifth Missouri For Speech.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

INDEPENDENCE (Kan.) May 8.—Adopting strong resolutions favoring the entire progressive movement and saving out the time-honored custom of laudatory planks in praise of State and national officials, the Republican State Convention today named four delegates at large to the national convention with iron-clad instructions for Theodore Roosevelt for President.

The delegates-at-large are: Henry Allen of Wichita, Ralph A. Harris of Ottawa, Ansel Clark of Sterling, and John M. Landon of Independence.

Allen, Harris and Clark are Republicans and Landon is a Democrat.

From the minute the convention opened, the 104 delegates bearing instructions for Taft were working to get through some of the things they desired, but the Roosevelt majority of 790 was too great.

Before the delegates-at-large were named, Mr. Harvey of Shawnee, former Lieutenant Governor of Kansas, and a Taft delegate, asked that he be given fifteen minutes to make speech. A motion to permit him to do so was defeated, but finally he was given the floor for five minutes.

"I came up here to ask one thing," said Harvey, "that, when President Taft is re-nominated, you fellows get out and work and vote for him."

"No, no, we won't," shouted a delegate.

The convention was in an uproar or a minute.

"Never mind, boys," said Gov. Tubbs, chairman, "we'll let that matter up when we nominate Roosevelt."

UNDERWOOD BEATS WILSON.

JACKSON (Miss.) May 8.—Oscar V. Underwood defeated Gov. Woodrow Wilson by a decisive majority in the Democratic Presidential primary in Mississippi Tuesday, according to figures compiled today.

Not more than 25 per cent. of the registered voters were polled. Returns are coming in very slowly. The figures show that Underwood has carried 67 out of the 77 counties.

Wilson in the State and the number was increased by the official figures.

respect to oil. The price went down, suppressed by the Standard Oil, so that we did not know what to do with those Indian lands. Now, because competition has come about, crude oil has gone up, and the price of oil generally has gone up.

"Then, about the tobacco business. They say that decree is a sham. Well, what is the effect of it? Don't you remember out in Kentucky they had rich riders and they tore up the tobacco plants. They killed people and they drove them off their farms in order to reduce the supply of Burley tobacco because they could not get any price for it, and that was because the tobacco trust went in there and bought what they wanted and paid the price they wanted. Now what is the result of the tobacco decree? Why Burley tobacco has come up under the competition that have come in there."

Answering the Roosevelt charge of a Taft alliance with business, the President criticized his predecessor for attempting to inject into a national campaign questions which properly concern the State and which a President has no direct concern.

"Mr. Roosevelt said I was not only in favor of an aristocracy or an oligarchy, but he said that I was in favor of an oligarchy of bosses, that I supported that kind of government and that made the issue, the people against the bosses, and that all the business wars for me, and they were all opposed to him, and that is what he says today," asserted Mr. Taft.

"That is the issue. If I am elected there won't be a boss in the country and if he is not, they will just own it. Washington and run the government."

"Well, I am not in favor of the machine politics. They are abuses of our government. We have no organizations. We cannot very well get along without these, but I am just as much opposed to bosses, in the sense that Mr. Roosevelt wishes you to understand that term, as he is."

ROOSEVELT AND BOSSES.

"Now, there must be a good deal of vagueness and misunderstanding about this business of bosses. The President has very little to do with the establishment of a boss or his disestablishment. He takes at Washington the Government and the people that are sent there by the people, and it is the people who are to disestablish the bosses; the President has no power to refuse to appoint them when they come with the mandate of the people."

"I am not criticizing, but I would like to know how many bodies of dead bosses were strewn along the path of Theodore Roosevelt when he was seven years President of the United States? I don't criticize him for that; it was not within his function to go about with a sword cutting off the heads of dragons like that. What he did, and what he has defended himself time and time again for doing, was to use those men to get good legislation and good government for the people. I have not done any differently in that respect and I don't intend to do any differently if I am elected, that all the bosses will die."

"I have recommended something," he continued, "that will assist in ending the abuses of the system, but I have not heard any approval from anybody that was so loud that I could hear it. That is, I have recommended that all those who are in the Government as political offices, be put in the classified civil service and that the Congressmen and the President be relieved from their appointment."

"I have done that with three Congressmen, but I have not heard any approval from anybody that was so loud that I could hear it. That is, I have recommended that all those who are in the Government as political offices, be put in the classified civil service and that the Congressmen and the President be relieved from their appointment."

DISCUSSES THE RECALL.

In discussing the recall, Mr. Taft appealed to the voters to tell him over what might become of them if the recall of decisions became permissible.

"Every constitutional guaranty that protects you and my colored friends, every constitutional guaranty that you have in the thirteenth and fourteenth and fifteenth amendments," he said, "would be subject to an election to decide whether the court was right in its decision or not in a particular case. What does that amount to, gentlemen? It amounts to the restriction of your Constitution in its entirety."

Mr. Taft gave a long list of legislation enacted during his administration which he said would be a progressive. He said he accepted the support of "Uncle Joe" Cannon when Speaker of the House of Representatives, on the advice of Mr. Cannon, he attacked him for it. The President went so far as to say that for a time he contemplated an attempt to defeat Mr. Cannon for re-election to the Speakership, but after receiving a letter from Mr. Roosevelt advising against it, he changed his mind, and having secured Mr. Cannon's assurances not to oppose legislation, he thought necessary, he abandoned that plan.

A SQUARE DEAL.

ALL TAFT ASKS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PORTSMOUTH (N.H.) May 8.—The been hit below the belt and I am here to fight," declared President Taft here today.

At Seaboard, Seaman and Peabody, the President was speaking in Adams county, where Judge A. Z. Blair disfranchised for several years nearly 2000 men for having been concerned in vote-buying and vote-selling. A man on the station platform at Seaboard shouted:

"What's he talking to these people for? They're all disfranchised anyhow."

"I am said to represent the interests to be under the influence of special privilege," said Mr. Taft, at Peabody. "There is no administration in the history of the government in which the prosecutions have been so uniform and have been so prosecuted without fear and without regard to consequences."

The Interstate Commerce Commission reported against Dan Haney of Cleveland that he was accepting rebates. I put him before the Attorney-General and the District Attorney and the grand jury and they found an indictment against him. And now he is one of the patriots that is loud in his denunciation of me and his strongest in support of Theodore Roosevelt."

"I followed the policies of Theodore Roosevelt and prosecuted all the trusts and I went a little farther than that. I prosecuted the steel trust and also the harvest trust. I ask you to give me a square deal."

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

GRASSY VALLEY (Cal.) May 8.—(By A. P. Night Wire.) Giovanni Caligari, accused of the murder of George Schumacher, was permitted to plead guilty today to a charge of manslaughter. Sentence will be pronounced Friday.

MAJORITY FAVOR TAFT.

Delegates Elected in Maryland Personally Prefer Roosevelt Though Instructed for Roosevelt.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BALTIMORE, May 8.—The attitude of Taft leaders in Maryland toward the peculiar situation that might develop through the working of the new State primary law, was still undeclared today. While the delegates elected to sit in the State convention appeared on the primary ballots with no designation to indicate their affiliations, complete and official returns indicate that, leaving the matter of instructions aside, a majority of them will be personally friendly to the President. Some of the Taft leaders said they will be 68 such Taft delegates to 61 known to favor Roosevelt.

Although the unofficial returns show that the counties and Baltimore City by their preference vote have instructed the delegates to choose a delegation to the national convention bound to vote for Roosevelt, the Taft leaders, according to their claims, could control the organizations of the State convention and the persons which would control the delegates.

The Roosevelt leaders assert that they have no fear such a complication would rob them of the fruits of the victory they claim on the preference vote.

The figures, complete for the Republican vote and practically complete for the Democratic vote show that the preference vote of the State as a whole was as follows:

Regulars: Roosevelt, 29,124; Taft, 26,093; Roosevelt's majority, 3,115.

Democrats: Clark, 34,223; Wilson, 22,445; Harmon, 7183; Clark's plurality over Wilson, 11,847.

BERKELEY, May 8.—J. Stitt Wilson, Socialist Mayor of Berkeley, announced before he left for the East that he would not accept the nomination of the Socialist national convention, that he would be a candidate this fall for Congress from the Sixth District, comprising Alameda county, where he is a legislator.

Wilson said he would decline the offer of the Milwaukee Socialists to present his name for the Presidential nomination. It is understood that State Senator John W. Stetson will resign his seat in the Legislature and run for Congress with Congressman Knowland.

MANIACS ARE UNGUARDED.

Male Attendants at Chicago Asylum Go Out on Strike Because They Cannot Get Their Pay.

CHICAGO, May 8.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A strike of the male attendants at the Dunning Institution for the insane left the county with thousands of unguarded maniacs on its hands today. The attendants, twenty-five in all, went on strike for some money, not more money. Complications in the legal appropriations had deprived them of pay for three months and they decided to work no longer without it.

Dr. Stephen R. Pietrowicz, the Dunning superintendent, immediately took steps toward the restraint of his army of irresponsible wards. Then he called upon the county administration to effect a speedy settlement. By his attitude the superintendent practically forced the county to pay the attendants.

"I'll resign in twenty-four hours if the return of these attendants is not accomplished," was the ultimatum served on the president of the county board, Peter Barten. An arbitration conference, which settled the strike in a few hours, was started.

With the walk-out of the attendants, Dr. Pietrowicz and his staff were forced to take stringent measures in handling the demented beings, numbering close to 3000. Absolutely no one was allowed to enter the institution and the attendants themselves were forced to assume roles of attendants, as the depleted staff fell far short of the number needed to care for the patients.

RALLY OF TAFT VOTERS.

Arrangements Making in San Francisco For a Great Meeting on Saturday Night.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Senator Robert M. La Follette tonight spoke in a theater to a large audience. He will go tomorrow to cities in Marin and Sonoma counties, speaking in San Rafael and Sausalito.

The Taft forces are arranging for a big rally to be held here Saturday night. Among the speakers will be Marshall Hale, formerly a prominent member of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League, who will preside; Joseph Scott of Los Angeles, and former Congressman Ralph Cole of Ohio.

Taft headquarters issued today a statement that "advices from Washington are to the effect that the President's managers intend to spring a coup that will throw conformation into the Roosevelt camp."

The statement goes on to say that this coup probably will consist in a certain unpublished letter written by Roosevelt to President Taft shortly after the latter entered the White House.

TURNED IN FALSE ALARM.

AND IS CAUGHT DOING IT.

Apparently possessed of a desire to create a sensation, even at the risk of killing innocent women and children, a well-dressed man of middle age, whose name as C. W. Lawton, was arrested at Fourth and Hill streets shortly before midnight last night on the charge of turning in false alarms of fire.

Several alarms earlier in the evening caused the police to issue a general order to look out for the fire and, every box in the district was covered by officers waiting for a recurrence. After turning in an alarm at Third and Spring streets the fire made his way to Fourth and Hill streets, where another alarm was turned in at 11 o'clock.

Upon the arrival of the department it was found that this, too, was a false alarm and word was sent to Lieut. Spellman informing him of the fact. Less than a half hour later, another alarm was turned in from box No. 441 at the same corner, but before the man could get away, witnesses to the act had called Police-man N. Beale, and a minute later Lawton was a prisoner. Upon being accused of the crime, Lawton at first denied all knowledge of the false alarms, but later admitted that he had been taken as he was leaving the box where the alarm had been pulled a moment previous.

Upon being searched at the Central Station a large quantity of morphine and other opiates were found in his possession and the officer believe that his thirst for excitement was largely fed by narcotics.

No letters or papers were found in the prisoner's possession and as he refused to make any statement regarding his business and private affairs, Los officers were unable to identify him last night.

It is stated that sheer luck alone prevented a serious accident at the Third and Spring street call, as the sidewalks were crowded at the time

All the other officers, with the exception of the secretary, were re-elected. George K. Smith of St. Louis was elected secretary. Aside from the election of officers, little business of importance was done at the last day's session.

Several alarms earlier in the evening caused the police to issue a general order to look out for the fire and, every box in the district was covered by officers waiting for a recurrence. After turning in an alarm at Third and Spring streets the fire made his way to Fourth and Hill streets, where another alarm was turned in at 11 o'clock.

Upon the arrival of the department it was found that this, too, was a false alarm and word was sent to Lieut. Spellman informing him of the fact. Less than a half hour later, another alarm was turned in from box No. 441 at the same corner, but before the man could get away, witnesses to the act had called Police-man N. Beale, and a minute later Lawton was a prisoner. Upon being accused of the crime, Lawton at first denied all knowledge of the false alarms, but later admitted that he had been taken as he was leaving the box where the alarm had been pulled a moment previous.

Upon being searched at the Central Station a large quantity of morphine and other opiates were found in his possession and the officer believe that his thirst for excitement was largely fed by narcotics.

No letters or papers were found in the prisoner's possession and as he refused to make any statement regarding his business and private affairs, Los officers were unable to identify him last night.

It is stated that sheer luck alone prevented a serious accident at the Third and Spring street call, as the sidewalks were crowded at the time

SUITS OVER GOVE ESTATE.

Action Started Seeking Removal of Trustee of Property Left by Man Who Died in Pasadena.

CINCINNATI, May 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Suits for the removal of Mrs. Minnie G. Gove, as trustee for the estate of Charles G. Gove, who died at Pasadena, Cal., some fifteen years ago, leaving an estate of approximately $500,000, and for foreclosure of mortgage for $75,000 against her husband, William C. Gove, were filed today here respectively by Frances G. Dobbins and her husband, Horace G. Dobbins, both of Pasadena, Cal.

Mrs. Dobbins alleges that her sister, Mrs. Minnie G. Gove, is not acting for the best interests of the estate and her husband states that his brother-in-law gave the mortgage to cover a loan made to him at a time when he resigned as trustee of the Gove estate.

The Dobbins' both live in Pasadena. The Gove family reside in Philadelphia, a suburban point here. The trust was created in Pasadena, where Gove died. It is in favor of Mrs. Rebecca M. Gove, widow, who resides at the Hotel Alms, of this city.

MANIACS ARE UNGUARDED.

Male Attendants at Chicago Asylum Go Out on Strike Because They Cannot Get Their Pay.

CHICAGO, May 8.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A strike of the male attendants at the Dunning Institution for the insane left the county with thousands of unguarded maniacs on its hands today. The attendants, twenty-five in all, went on strike for some money, not more money. Complications in the legal appropriations had deprived them of pay for three months and they decided to work no longer without it.

Dr. Stephen R. Pietrowicz, the Dunning superintendent, immediately took steps toward the restraint of his army of irresponsible wards. Then he called upon the county administration to effect a speedy settlement. By his attitude the superintendent practically forced the county to pay the attendants.

"I'll resign in twenty-four hours if the return of these attendants is not accomplished," was the ultimatum served on the president of the county board, Peter Barten. An arbitration conference, which settled the strike in a few hours, was started.

With the walk-out of the attendants, Dr. Pietrowicz and his staff were forced to take stringent measures in handling the demented beings, numbering close to 3000. Absolutely no one was allowed to enter the institution and the attendants themselves were forced to assume roles of attendants, as the depleted staff fell far short of the number needed to care for the patients.

RALLY OF TAFT VOTERS.

Arrangements Making in San Francisco For a Great Meeting on Saturday Night.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Senator Robert M. La Follette tonight spoke in a theater to a large audience. He will go tomorrow to cities in Marin and Sonoma counties, speaking in San Rafael and Sausalito.

The Taft forces are arranging for a big rally to be held here Saturday night. Among the speakers will be Marshall Hale, formerly a prominent member of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League, who will preside; Joseph Scott of Los Angeles, and former Congressman Ralph Cole of Ohio.

Taft headquarters issued today a statement that "advices from Washington are to the effect that the President's managers intend to spring a coup that will throw conformation into the Roosevelt camp."

THIEF SNEAKS
WITH JEWELS.Polo Players Robbed While Scoring Goals.Browning Club Aroused Over Author's Letter.Woman Tells How She Fought Robber.

Editor of The Times, 22 N. Fair Oaks avenue.

PASADENA, May 8.—While members of the Pasadena Polo Club were playing a match for the entertainment of the Shriner at Tournament Park last Monday afternoon, a sneak thief went through the clubhouse and stole $750 worth of valuables. The men left their street clothes, watches, jewelry and money in the building.

No report of the theft was made to the police and it was not until yesterday that the news became known, except to the losers and their friends.

Reginald Weiss probably suffered the heaviest loss. He had left his clothing in a locker, but neglected to lock the door, and the pockets were rifled. A gold watch, a diamond ring and a stickpin set with small diamonds and $30 were taken. One nickel was left in his purse.

John E. Miller, president of the Southern California Edison Company, carried two $100 bills and a $5 bill in a pocket-book, but although he left his clothes on a chair in front of his locker, he took the precaution to take the wallet inside the locker, taking the key with him. This money was saved. Several dollars in silver were taken from his pockets.

Dr. Z. T. Malaby also placed his purse under lock and key before entering the game, but a handsome and valuable gold watch was taken from his vest pocket.

Harry Weiss lost $1 and Carlton Burke lost a gold-handled knife and $5.

The theft was committed so carefully that no clues were discovered. The caretaker and several members of the club and friends sat in the front room of the clubhouse while the thief was at work. He entered from the rear and took his departure in the same way.

SEEN NOTHING IN BROWNING.
The arrest of Robert Browning, who has just celebrated his centenary with more interest than has ever been shown here in literature, have had their rub rubbed the wrong way by the receipt of a letter from John Burroughs, the naturalist and author. He can see nothing in the works of the famous poet, and does not hesitate to say so. Writing from New York to the president of the Browning Club at Pasadena, he says in part:

"Just now my interest is not in Browning—in fact, it never has been to any extent. Browning is undoubtedly great poet, but I don't like him. His influence in me has been nil. He says a harmless commonplace thing with such a force and slant, with such contentions of syntax, that there is very little of his work that I can read with pleasure. This is doubtless a confession of my own limitations. The members of your club will doubtless get both pleasure and profit from struggling with him, and they have my most cordial good wishes."

A QUESTION OF SPEED.
The appearance of a little wire broom, designed for use in killing flies, was the cause of some good-natured comment at the City Hall yesterday. Inasmuch as the Mayor is the inventor and was formerly a manufacturer, of sticky fly-paper, his friends wanted to know why he had deserted this child of his own genius for such an outlandish contrivance.

"I find it sure and quick," he said.

TRIAL DRAGS ALONG.
The trial of Don Von Dundy, who was arrested by Constable Nixwell last Monday on charges of burglary and battery upon the allegation that he knocked at the door of the home of Mrs. Maria Romeo, No. 31 East Center street, last Saturday, and when she opened it attempted to snatch a purse from the room, was begun yesterday before Justice of the Peace McDonald.

Mrs. Romeo, who does not speak English, took the witness stand and told in Spanish through an interpreter how she had fought him with a hatpin. Late in the afternoon the case was continued to next Saturday.

ALL IN READINESS.
The May festival, which school children of the city are to present this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon at Clune's Theater, is looked forward to by the children as the most important entertainment in the city has ever been. A dress rehearsal was held yesterday at the theater. The child members of the programme are thousands. All of the seats in the theater have been sold and as many more persons have applied for tickets.

RAIN CAUSES COMMENT.
Old residents of the city yesterday rummaged the garrets of their memories to gather data concerning late rains of previous years. Hardly more than .51 of an inch fell throughout the day and evening, but it was enough to gladden the pavements, and it was accompanied by thunder and lightning in the afternoon. Forecaster Sever looks for unsettled weather today, although many are convinced that yesterday's raindrops were merely the last of the season.

CITY BRIEFS.
A number of small changes are to be made in the departments of the City Building Inspector, and the City Plumbing Inspector.

The annual election of All Saints Episcopal Church last Tuesday night resulted in the election of William F. Calhoun as senior warden; J. B. Johnson as junior warden; C. F. Alexander as secretary; C. S. Byington, treasurer, and L. H. Postman, Samuel J. L. and C. N. Postman, vestrymen.

Dr. John Willis Burr, president of the Pasadena Board of Trade, to be held next Thursday night at the Hotel Maryland. There will be a number of interesting addresses.

Six Pasadena High School girls will ride in the Tournament of Roses Association's flower-decked vehicle in the parade in Los Angeles tomorrow morning are Miss Louise Tantau, Miss Ruth Straley, Miss Helen Butler, Miss Letitia Davis, Miss Florence Taylor and Miss Stella Butler.

Residents of the northwest part of the city will probably petition the government for a sub-postoffice, and the city for a branch library, in the near future. The questions will be discussed at a meeting of the Neighborhood Improvement Association, to be held tonight at No. 1888 North Lake avenue.

The April, last, reports as to school enrollment in Pasadena show a net gain of 512 pupils over the month of April, 1911.

Miss Patricia Geary, secretary of the department of method of the national board of the Young Women's Christian Association, is paying a visit to Pasadena.

Mrs. J. Hamilton, president of the Southern California Congress of Mothers, addressed the members of the Pasadena Parent-Teacher Association at the school yesterday. She dealt with questions discussed at the recent National Mothers' Congress meeting.

SOUTH PASADENA BUILDINGS.
Eight new cottages to be put up in a line—Prominent Old Fellow Dies—Line May Be Extended.

SOUTH PASADENA, May 8.—Building Inspector Lowry issued to Fred J. Dennis, of the local Lodge of Odd Fellows, Trust building in Los Angeles eight building permits for $2500 each, totaling $20,000. The permits are for eight two-story houses to be erected on Ramona avenue and Oak Knoll, south of Bank street, and work on the structures is to be begun immediately.

Fred J. Dennis, a Past Noble Grand of the local Lodge of Odd Fellows, died yesterday at his home, No. 1033 Park avenue. The deceased was 50 years old and had resided in Pasadena for many years. He was accompanied by his wife, whom he leaves. A funeral service will be held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the chapel of Turner, Stevens & Berry, with interment in the O.C.O.F. Cemetery at Los Angeles. The lodge had charge of the services.

A rumor is current in the city that the Pacific Electric is contemplating extending the old line through on the street, and the new line across the bridge to Oak Knoll, routing Oak Knoll cars over the old line instead of running through Oneonta, as is done now.

The prize for the best attendance of delegates at the recent county convention, held at the Hotel Coronado, was awarded to the local organization, whose entire delegation, consisting of Messrs. Wood, Thayer, Hindley and Wood, was present at every session during the three days' gathering.

Rev. Harry A. Sullivan, formerly a priest in the Catholic church, will lecture in the Christian Church of the city on Sunday, May 12, at 8 o'clock. The subject of his lecture is "Questions Asked by the Priests in the Confession Box."

The students of the High School yesterday observed the one hundredth anniversary of Brown's birth with appropriate exercises. G. Wharton James of Pasadena lectured on the life of the noted author, and Miss Eleanor Miller gave readings from his works.

WATTS CITIZENS AGITATED.
City Council Demands That Former Clerk Complete His Work in Copying Resolutions and Ordinances.

WATTS, May 8.—A second demand has been made by the City Council upon S. J. Lord, former City Clerk, that he complete the work which he is alleged to have done before leaving his office. The matter involved is the copying into the proper books of 200 resolutions and some twenty ordinances, running back for nearly three years. The new clerk reported two weeks ago that this work had not been done and that he could not go ahead with the new resolutions and ordinances passed until it was attended to.

An order was passed by a full vote of the Council that Lord should be given no attention to the order. Now a second order has been passed, demanding that the work be done immediately or some action will be taken. The City may order the work done and the present clerk to Lord's bondsmen.

The question of the free sale and delivery of liquor within the city of Watts was also called to the attention of the Council, and the City Attorney was asked to look into the law and to report at the meeting next week. It is freely admitted that agents for liquor houses in Los Angeles have been soliciting orders in this city and deliveries have been made from wagons in such quantities as customers might designate.

The Wylie law provides that liquor shall not be delivered in less than one-half gallon lots, and that it shall be delivered only by common carrier. Those favoring the "dry-town" plan are determined to enforce the provisions of the Wylie law which, they say, are stringent enough to cover local conditions.

LONG BEACH, May 8.—Only one serious accident marred the festivities of Shriner day in Long Beach. Mrs. H. C. Keys of Sacramento and Mrs. R. C. Murrell of San Francisco were painfully injured this afternoon when the auto in which they were being shown the sights was struck by a machine driven by W. H. Austin.

Mrs. Murrell and Miss Elsie von Bensen of Los Angeles were in the auto which was driven by Oscar Holcomb. The machine, headed westward, was turning north at Broadway and Pacific when a lighter car, driven by Austin, crashed into it. Austin saw the danger and made a quick turn, but not enough to prevent the collision.

Mrs. Keys and Mrs. Murrell were thrown from the rear seat to the asphalt paving and rendered unconscious. Medical aid was summoned and it was found that Mrs. Keys was suffering with a broken shoulder, while Mrs. Murrell had broken ribs and a bruised head. Both were taken to Los Angeles this evening.

Holcomb is said to have made two short turns, confusing the other driver. Both machines are damaged.

TO STREW FLOWERS.
Conference committees of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. today decided upon arrangements for the proper observance of Memorial Day, May 30. Committees were appointed on music, a speaker, a reader and a line of march to be headed by the municipal band and Company of Guards of honor if they are not called South.

The W. R. C. will have charge of the exercises in the park, decorating the monument in honor of the unknown dead, and in the strewing of the waves with flowers as a tribute to those lost at sea. Following the parade there will be memorial exercises at the auditorium. The decoration of graves at the local cemeteries will take place in the afternoon.

BY PRIVATE SALE.
No bids were received yesterday by the Supervisors for the $100,000 school bond issue recently voted by new buildings, and the Board of Education will seek to dispose of the bonds by private sale. Members of the board expected this because of an intimation that the bonds carry a rate of four per cent.

United and bond houses are alleged to be united in forcing a change of interest on school bonds, which they assert should be sold at one cent.

REACH BRIEFS.
The $5000 bond of A. B. Austin for his faithful charge of the Long Beach police department was received this morning and submitted to the City Attorney for approval, after which the new Chief will qualify and be granted a ten days' leave of absence without pay to clear up his private business, one item of which is to turn over his papers as a member of the State militia and discharge from the service that organization. Until this is done, Sgt. Kutz will remain in charge of the department.

When Frank Shaffer leaves Saturday morning on his ship to Catalina and return he will carry with him a small silk flag, nearly inscribed and which, on his return, will be put up and sold at public auction as a souvenir of the first flight across the channel. The proceeds derived from the sale will be turned over to the Rodgers monument fund.

The District Sunday-School Union last night elected as president Rev. Walter C. Loomis of the Central M. E. Church. Other officers were: Rev. A. B. Martin, vice-president; Mrs. H. S. Leavitt, secretary; and William Galbraith, treasurer. The payment for the largest percentage of teachers and officers present at roll call of the convention was awarded to the Church of the Brethren.

The Long Beach Parent-Teacher Association today elected as officers: Mrs. E. N. Strong, president; Mrs. W. Basset, vice-president; Mrs. James D. Graham, recording secretary; Mrs. T. W. Williams, treasurer; Mrs. A. P. Lloyd, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. L. W. Shuman, historian.

CHILDREN LOVE
SYRUP OF FIGSDELICIOUS FRUIT LAXATIVE
BEST FOR LITTLE ONES.

Sweetens Their Stomachs and Cleanses the Liver and Waste-Clogged Bowels Without Gripping.

Every mother immediately realizes after giving her child delicious Syrup of Figs that this is the ideal laxative and physic for the children. Nothing else regulates the little one's stomach, liver and 30 feet of tender bowels so promptly, besides, giving them a healthy and delightful taste.

If your child isn't feeling well; resting nicely; eating regularly and acting naturally it is a sure sign that its little insides need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or your little one has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sorethroat, full of cold, tongue coated; give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs and in a few hours all the foul, constipated, clogged up waste, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of licorice, figs, senna and aromatics, it cannot be harmful. Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages and grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

POMONA BUILDING ACTIVITY.

New Hospital to Be Constructed Soon and Hotel and Business Blocks Planned for Housing City.

POMONA, May 8.—The building activity continues unabated here and it is hoped that construction of a new $30,000 hospital may soon be started on North Garvey avenue. The other block and hotel apartments on West Second street are about ready for occupancy and the new five-story fireproof office building of the Pomona Investment Company at Third street and Garvey avenue will be completed in two months.

Many of the offices are already rented and are being finished to suit tenants. The new addition to the brick building, owned by J. A. Pender, at First street and Garvey avenue, the upper stories of which will be used for hotel purposes, is rapidly being erected and the completion of the construction of the new $30,000 overhauser, at Third and Thomas streets is only delayed by some minor details.

The second day of the district missionary convention was opened at the First Methodist Church this morning with devotions led by Miss Florence Powell. The report of the district corresponding secretary, given by Mrs. Mary F. Woodcock, Mrs. H. W. Wright addressed the audience and a testimonial was presented to her. A testimonial was given by Mrs. M. H. H. of the afternoon session the general subject, "Our Missionary Societies," was discussed in different phases by Messrs. Featherstone, Best, Harrison, and Robertson. The principal address was given by Miss Mary C. Phillips, district treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Jennie C. Phillips. The convention has been successful in all details.

Glifford Pinchot, who has several friends here, will address a Pomona meeting under the auspices of the Good Government Organization here tomorrow evening.

PAYS PENALTY
WITH HIS LIFE.Bullets of Police Revenge
Rioter's Assault.Secretary of Waiters' Union Lands in the Toils.Citizen Committees Await Further Outbreaks.BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
SAN DIEGO, May 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joe Mikolash, the I.W.W. member shot in a duel with the police in last night's riot, died early tonight. The body was turned over to the coroner, who has ordered an inquest tomorrow morning.

Physicians today removed a bullet from his intestines. Mikolash is supposed to have been shot by Policemen Stevens and Hadden in last night's battle at Thirteenth and K streets. He was shot three times after he had struck Policeman Hadden with an ax. It is believed by the police that six men fired on Stevens and Hadden. Stevens is suffering from a shattered arm which may have to be amputated.

Backed by the sympathetic and moral support of local citizens, the police department tonight is in complete control of the situation and attempts of outbreak in defiance of the law is held without success and their allies, the Socialist party, will be frustrated if made.

The police today held more than 100 men believed to be members of the I.W.W. and sympathizers. Stanley Due, now at liberty on $1500 bond on a charge of conspiracy, was the first arrested. He may be charged with conspiracy to commit murder and hold without bail.

OVERSTREET BOUND.
A. J. Van Bibber, secretary of the "Boys and Waiters' Union," was also arrested. He was once tried for breaking the law in San Diego and escaped the employment of a waiter during a strike, when the police were finally compelled to act and the women to join.

Van Bibber, sleek and well-fed, a diamond of purest color gracing his white shirt front, trembled in fear he was brought into the Chief's office, relating in defense of his actions how he had acted as a stool pigeon for the police. He had been a citizen in commenting on the situation in San Diego.

Interim literature, most of it amounting to San Diego and his fellow members of the union, was found for once he found himself in the hands of the law, completely. Van Bibber promised faithfully to refrain from advocating lawlessness and was released because he has a wife and two children and the police department is not inclined to handle a man who has been a citizen in commenting on the situation in San Diego.

Butler, who keeps a dilapidated room, lodging-house, and others who are not at all sympathetic to the I.W.W., and explained the finding of the police in the statement that he had been reading it for his own amusement. Butler, who says he has been a member of the union for some time, is looked upon by the police as the most cunning of the prisons arrested.

BEARS TO BE CALLED.
John Van Wormer was also among those arrested. Frederick Neely, who was arrested on a charge of violating the street speaking ordinance, was released and pleaded with the police to grant him bail. His release was granted and he was released several weeks ago.

EVERYONE WHO DESIRES NICE HAIR MUST SURELY TRY THIS

YOU CAN DOUBLE THE BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR IN TEN MINUTES WITH A LITTLE DANDERINE.

When you see a head of heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is buoyant and lustrous, you can at once conclude that this man or woman is using Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately destroys and dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? A 25-cent bottle will truly amaze you.

—smile a while and while you smile another smiles—and soon there's miles of smiles—because you smiled.

AN ANSWER.

Some eastern statisticians have set the papers asking why in the liberty-loving West so many more arrests are made than occur in the East. It is declared, for instance, that Arizona causes thirty-four times the number of incarcerations made in North Carolina. The answer is easy. The West does love liberty and it loves it too much to allow any one citizen to encroach upon the rights of all other citizens.

OPEN THE THROTTLE.

The thrill of driving an automobile is the constant desire to open the throttle a little wider and watch the responsive machine take the lead as she feels the thrust of power. Human lives might be driven like a car. Men might open their brains to more of the light, might feed their labor with a richer capacity, might put more power into their business and look upon every day as an open road for the endlessly fascinating race.

THE LATEST TRADE UNION.

The latest union is that of the ex-convicts, who are holding an international conference at Bucharest. To be eligible for this most modern of societies you must have served a term of imprisonment lasting at least two years, and it is a condition of membership that you should undertake to lead the life of an honest man in future. The last condition favors of a sop to the conventionalities and it does seem a pity that such daring should be thus blighted.

NOT THAT KIND.

An architect from Paris says that Los Angeles is a beautiful city. We had suspected as much. By a sort of mutual consent a number of those present had tacitly agreed on this proposition. But the architect adds that our beauty is mostly outside of us, being, in his opinion, due to the hills around us and the greenery which grows upon them. Those hills should not worry our visiting brother. A hill around Los Angeles is permitted to stay green only long enough for some real estate agent to tie it up with a lease or a deed, grade it, and cover its sunny acres with artistic bungalows. Our chief resentment against the distinguished visitor, however, is that he advises us to preserve a uniform skyline. Los Angeles is a beautiful city, desiring to be more beautiful, but the game here is not played with a limit. Sky-scrapers may not be beautiful, but they possess a sort of logical usefulness which cannot overstate.

FEMININE THRILLS.

Harriet Quimby has crossed the English channel from a point near Dover in an aeroplane and it will be remembered that in the last auto race at New Orleans Joan Newton Cuneo came second in the first event by driving her car fifty miles in fifty-two minutes. At Venice for several Sunday afternoons a mighty multitude has been held breathless for a few seconds by the double parachute leap made by a woman from a balloon in the sky. A feat more sensational is perhaps beyond imagination. Her first fall of 100 feet is arrested by the opening of the parachute. After a descent of another 100 feet, which is as gentle as the descent of a feather from heaven, she falls into the air sideways for a maddening distance before the second parachute spreads its filmy hands above her and she drifts upon its broad white wing to the earth. The amazing feats of these three women suggest the dauntless courage of their kind. By the way, they are perhaps taking less chances than men who face the same peril in that it is a woman's way, by very instinct, to play safe and to master the rules of what she undertakes. Women auto drivers seldom come to grief either from accident or by arrest from careless driving for this same reason.

THE AUTOMOBILE AND THE LONDON SEASON.

The motor car is having a pronounced effect upon the London season, which formerly commenced in April, but does not now come into full blast until the end of May. Whereas formerly town houses had to be bespoken early by those who did not own one, and fortunate owners had to make arduous train journeys back and forth from their country homes and so come to town early to get comfortably settled, there are now rows of empty mansions which will wait in vain for tenants. For all the country people whose country places are within easy reach of London by auto will not now take a town house, but do any necessary entertainments at the great hotels or at their clubs. And those whose country places are at more distant points seem to prefer to cut the season short and stay at some smart hotel for the two months.

Town mansions were a great source of wealth to their owners in the past, when tenants, particularly American tenants, were prepared to pay almost any price for the right locality. Now even the American tenant seems to prefer a country place and a hotel suite. Perchance in time it will be the motor car that will solve London's housing problem after all. The mansions of the great will be taken over by the London County Council and turned into model dwellings for the poor!

Indeed, if one is to accept the house agent's grumble as evidence that day is nearer at hand than might be imagined, what with Lloyd George's land taxes and paid politicians sitting at Westminster!

PERKINS THE PATRIOT.

George W. Perkins, the multi-millionaire harvester trust magnate, formerly a partner of John P. Morgan, still a director in many of his corporations, and affiliated with him in various projects, has an insatiable devil-given right to favor the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for the Presidency, and to judiciously distribute a portion of his gains for that purpose. It has never been the practice of Col. Roosevelt to look a gift horse in the mouth, especially when the animal is saddled and bridled and expensively caparisoned, and he will not now change his system. Therefore, in response to an anxious inquirer at the colonel's Boston meeting, he replied with a note of triumph in his voice, "Perkins is for me."

The inquirer did not pursue the subject farther. He did not ask, "Why is Perkins for you?" But just that question was asked in Massachusetts, and was asked in Ohio and California and other States where Presidential preference primaries are yet to be held.

Mr. Perkins has never been accused of being addicted to gush and glow. He is not a sentimentalist in politics or anything else. He is a practicalist. When he gives temporary leave of absence to a dollar he takes it forth with directions to return, bringing a lot of other dollars with it. His financial and moral—or immoral—support of Col. Roosevelt is based upon the hypothesis that the presence of the colonel in the White House would be more advantageous to the Perkins interests than would the presence of President Taft.

Mr. Perkins is a harvester and the head of a harvester trust in every interpretation of the word. He harvests not only where he has sown but where anybody else has sown.

"With his sickle keen."

He reaps the bearded grain at a breath, and the flowers that grow between."

The "Big Business" that is trembling in its wide double-soled shoes with fear of Roosevelt, and that is crying aloud like a distressed hyena with apprehension at even the faintest and remote prospect of Roosevelt's election, is not the big business that abides in the office where Mr. Perkins drew his $15,000 check to try and carry New York City for Roosevelt. It is a big business that knows exactly what it is about and knows that it has less to expect and more to fear from the President who drove the sugar trust and the oil trust and the tobacco trust to the wall, and is after the steel trust and the harvester trust with a sharp stick than from the ex-president who dallied and dawdled and meddled and muddled with the trust problem, and the "rigor of whose war" against the trusts never in one single instance came up to the "high-sounding phrase" of his manifesto.

THE MEXICAN CRISIS.

The West has not been alone in urging the necessity for the protection of American lives and investments in Mexico. Among others we note that the Cleveland Plain Dealer, the New York Tribune, the Chicago Record Herald, the Detroit Free Press, the Pittsburgh Post, the Buffalo Enquirer, the New York World, the St. Louis Globe Democrat and the Washington Post all regard intervention as necessary, and many of them gravely question the wisdom of "indefinitely postponing the inevitable." Even the Christian Science Monitor, always to be regarded as pacific above all else, says:

"Plainly the Mexican government must at once exhibit its ability to protect the persons and property of the American republic or the United States government will be driven to the necessity of taking steps on its own account to bring about this end. There is hardly a doubt that American intervention would be hailed with satisfaction, not only by Americans and other foreigners in Mexico, but by many law-abiding Americans as well." The West welcomes this appreciation of an acute situation.

AFTER OUR GOOD MONEY.

"The Republic of Colombia," or rather a syndicate using the name of that country as a cloak for its schemes, is flooding the markets with literature to boost the plan of extracting from the United States fifty millions of dollars as compensation for the "loss" of the Panama Canal zone.

The circular asserts that in 1903 Jose L. Obaldia, then Governor of Panama, was "bribed by Yankee gold" to proclaim and maintain the Republic of Panama, in order to be able to sell the strip of land necessary for the construction of the canal.

How much gold was in the bribery fund and what Yankee furnished it is not stated. Some of the "bribe money," according to the statement in the circular, went to "two unknown, ignorant and mercenary soldiers" who were in charge of the "land forces" of Colombia on the isthmus, and the "naval forces" of Colombia in Panamanian waters.

The number of the "land forces" and the number of guns on the ships and fishing boats which constituted the "naval forces" of Colombia in Panamanian waters is not stated. "President Theodore Roosevelt," says the circular, "who was the soul of the plot," hastened to recognize the "fake republic" and under his unscrupulous influence "European nations and American States" recognized the republic of Panama and thus "the United States committed the blackest and most pernicious act ever committed by any nation in the history of the world."

But Colombia "has not," says the circular, "recognized the republic of Panama." She is "reserving the right to enforce her claims in some better and future time."

Colombia will not, as at present advised, enforce her claims (for $50,000,000 indemnity) by a resort to the arbitrament of arms. She will not send her battleships to bombard New York and "belt the stuffing" out of Redondo. Her heroic soldiers will not march northward, and camp on the slopes of the Gatun dam and stretch a chain across it and stop the transit of the ships of the world until that $50,000,000 (85 per cent. off for spot cash) is paid.

She will do the work by inspiring Latin America to stop trading with the "Yankee pigs." From Juarez southward to Patagonia, no Mexican or Central American or South American will allow the contents of a bottle of Blue Ribbon Fabst to gurgle down his patriotic throat, or will clothe his stalwart legs in Manchester cotton overalls—unless of course he can buy both beer and breeches on credit.

The refusal of President Taft to "submit

The Programme's Only Half Over.

Colombia's claim for $50,000,000 to arbitration," says the circular, "is costing the United States $50,000,000 a year in Latin American trade, or more than is being spent on the Panama Canal."

Who puts up for the printing and postage of this circular of the catch as catch can Colombian appeal for $50,000,000 is not known. It is a venture like unto that of him who "comes in on a shoe string expecting to draw a ten yard." The Times disdains to crush the hopes of the equatorial patriots, but it feels it to be its duty to tell them frankly that the American people, regardless of race, color, nativity or previous condition of political servitude, will respond to their appeal for $50,000,000 by saying, "Don't you wish you may get it?"

AN UNWARRANTED ASSUMPTION.

There is an insurrection in conservative old Princeton against the study of Greek. "Where are you going tonight?" asked one Jerseyman of another. "I am going," was the response, "to hear Prof. Gilbert Murray lecture on 'The Age of Pericles.'" "Oh, who cares how old Pericles was," remarked the first speaker, "let's go to the circus."

Prof. Murray criticizes the methods of both British and American universities. He says that "while the classics are protected by their study being made compulsory, no effort is made to make the teaching more interesting." The pupils are not required to like their lessons, only to learn them. Greek and Latin have been too much thought of as pedagogical subjects which only a pedant would mention outside a classroom. "The standard texts which generations of schoolboys have unlearned do not strike the imagination like the classics of other languages—Sanskrit, Persian, Chinese or Icelandic. Dante or Chaucer sounds more interesting to the ordinary cultivated person than a high school textbook like the Iliad or the Aeneid."

If the object of a collegiate education be to fit its recipient to conquer in the battle of life, a knowledge of Spanish, German and French will better equip him than the ability to translate the Iliad of Homer into hexameters, with the proper proportion of spondee and dactyls.

Prof. Ross, writing in the Century Magazine, claims intellectual supremacy for the East. He says: "Of forty-seven residents of Springfield, Mass., whose names are in 'Who's Who,' twelve are authors and artists; of forty-nine such in Omaha, Neb., not one is an author or artist. Even Orange with fifty-three names boasts ten authors; Kansas City, with forty-five names, has none."

George Ade said, when some one commented on the number of bright young men who came from Indiana, "Yes, and the brighter they are the quicker they come."

The assumption of these professors is that the greater number of authors and artists in the East demonstrates its intellectual superiority over the West. The unwarranted assumption of the pedants is that ability to formulate an Iambic, with one long leg and one short leg—like the fabled gyastrucius, who could only travel on side hills—is a higher class of ability than that exhibited by an Edison, who gave a voice to the lightning, a Marconi, who seized the ether for wires; a Burbank, who changed the stinging cactus into a forage plant, or Epes Randolph, who seized the vagrant Colorado River, spanked it and put it back in its bed. The world will no longer accept the pedantic assumptions of superiority made by some college graduates.

"No man is the wisest for his learning," says Selden; "it may administer matter to work in, or objects to work upon; but wit and wisdom are born with a man."

A BLOW TO THE NOVELISTS.

An interesting case has just been decided in the English courts—the State vs. Walker—in which a child's rightful parents endeavored to secure its return to them after it had been adopted in infancy by a Mr. and Mrs. Walker.

They claimed that they were not in prosperous circumstances when the baby was born, but that now, ten years after, they are in a position to give the boy every comfort and luxury.

Owing to the fact that the boy had become greatly attached to his adopted parents and they to him, they naturally fought the issue, when "the inalienable right of a mother to her child" was pleaded against them. Now, however, the case has been decided in favor of the adopted parents, because it is best for the child.

It is something to have gained that modern legislation should take into consideration what is best for the child. It renews one's faith in the reality of progress and gives great promise for the future. And there was sound logic in the judge's summing up in which he doubted whether "every comfort and luxury" would be good for the boy, and his dry remark that if the parents really loved the boy so dearly there was nothing to debar them from leaving him their fortune and contributing to his happiness all along!

But the decision will be a blow to the novelists who have been wont to depend upon such a situation as this to harrow our feelings. How often has the beautiful young adored heiress been reclaimed by her low, drink-besotted parents at the critical moment, and carried off to live a life of poverty and horror, upheld by the inexorable cruelty of the law? They will never be able to spring that on us again.

A MAGNIFICENT SCHEME.

One who writes with power exclaims that the great idea is the mission of poets. We have nothing against a poet with ideas, but at the same time we have a stronger leaning toward the sort of ideas entertained by a civil and mechanical engineer whose figures are reliable and who has a dash of genius in his system. In Los Angeles there resides an old cattleman who has been retired from the best industry for some eighteen years, but who has managed to make two or three modest fortunes by useful inventions and the promotion of large irrigation schemes during his period of retirement. Allen C. Rush has been a cattleman by profession and an engineer by hobby. Three years ago it struck him that he was ripe for something in the nature of the Big Idea and he proceeded to invent a remarkable suspension bridge which he calculates that he can fling across San Francisco Bay between San Francisco and Oakland, a distance of four and a half miles, at a cost of only $26,000,000. The United States Senate thinks well enough of the plan to have granted him a franchise across the government's waters with permission to anchor on Goat Island and to use a limited space at Presidio for a freight station. All of the commercial organizations of San Francisco, Berkeley and Oakland have endorsed the scheme and it is said that two large syndicates are competing for the privilege of bonding the Big Idea, full of the stupendous poetry of life.

UNCLE WALT.

The poet philosopher.

The gentle season goes its gait, and soon will vanish from our ken; then summer, with its heat on straight, will bring the panting suns of men. The heat will soak us day and night, and man will curse it as he fries; and all the doctors will unite to tell us how to swat the flies. I try to be a cheerful jay, but I confess, with downcast face, I hate to see the spring go 'way, and staling summer take its place. I always multiply my sins beneath the burning summer skies, when health department bulletins inform us how to swat the flies. I try to be an optimist, but even cheerful hearts grow sore; last year I slew a scientist who left a pamphlet at my door explaining that I am to blame whenever a human being dies because I shun the swatting game and don't exterminate the flies. A hard can take his lyre and sing with emphasis and fiery zest, concerning harmonies of spring, the babbling brooks and all the rest; but poets never take their harps and sing that time of brassy skies, when all the scientific sharps are telling how to swat the flies.

PLUMBER, REX.

By Alma Whitaker.

The cream of the future aristocracy will be formed entirely of plumbers. They are the natural patricians, the gentlemen born more than any other trade or profession, and it has remained for this year of grace 1912 for them to take their proper status in society.

But the signs are unmistakable. In a democratic age that is leveling classes on all sides, the plumber alone rises up an uncrushable autocrat. Is there a man among you who has ever defied a plumber? And is there a plumber existing who has ever cleaned up his own dirt?

That is one glorious prerogative of the plumber, from his earliest to his latest day, he may make all the dirt he likes and no one ever expects him to clean it up.

With that splendidly grand manner that is so effectively convincing, the plumber will scatter your walls, your soot, your water, chips, bits, spits and debris wherever he pleases; and there is no person so inept or so lacking in proper respect as to question his right, or to suggest that he make at least a show of leaving the place as he found it.

Here in California we suffer less from his autocracy than they do back East. There he is a dominating tyrant whose will is law and who holds the very existence of the household at his mercy. But even here, where the elements lend us their aid in resisting his power, he has us properly cowed with his natural and inevitable grand manner.

Behind his back we may give vent to our growls at his presumption, even as the Hyde Park orators denounce the King in London; but in our hearts we know he is our superior and we never fail to make him the humble obeisance his position demands.

He bargains not for his fee like the mercenary tradesman, who solicits your trade with a promise of fair dealing. He waits till you pray his presence in terms of urgent humility, he comes in his own time like a regal despot, and he leaves an inexorable and uncompromising stain upon you, while the compelling assumption that what he says is final. There is no appeal. In such rare cases where we have set ourselves to dispute his sovereignty, our heads have been bowed to the very dust and before a whole world we have been compelled to pay him tribute.

So that it is not incongruous that the superlative hero of the newest novel should be a plumber. One Fendall, author, has just published a book called "Lady Emyrtrude and the Plumber," which sets forth with natural sequence the inevitable superiority of the plumber under a Socialist regime. In these dark days, when all are equal and no one is allowed to earn more than $15 a week, the plumber will be the plum of the matrimonial market and the beautiful but inept Lady Emyrtrude will stake their highest hopes on him. In this particular book the plumber is so immeasurably superior to the gentle Lady Emyrtrude that we really feel that we are reading a new version of King Cophetua and the Beggar Maid.

Another sign of the times is the fact that a very cultured London newspaper, the Westminster Gazette, recently offered a large sum for a prize essay. The essay that won the prize was on "Plumbers," pointing out what a much maligned race they are, and what an essential boon to the community their trade has been!

And dislike the plumbers' assumption of superiority as we may, the fact remains that any ordinary man of any other profession can be made to look and feel an irretrievable fool when called upon to discuss plumbing under the eye of a plumber. And when he light-heartedly attempts to plumb himself, ah, then, indeed, his subject subjection to the autocrat is complete.

Upon the plumber depends the populating of the desert places of kings. The artist, the musician, the epoch-making writer, the newspaper, the telephone, flying machines, yes, and even automobiles can all be dispensed with, but we cannot do without the plumber and his plumbing.

Even a bad plumber is better than no plumber at all. Therefore there are great plumbers, middle-sized plumbers and little plumbers. There is no such thing as a meek plumber, a shy plumber, a modest plumber. Parents and guardians should note these things. If we would place our boys in the best sphere for worldly advancement, give unto them a profession taking high rank in our modern civilization and assuring them of the maximum of free for the minimum of plumb, we must make them plumbers. The law is no longer what it was, when even a judge may be recalled; the medical profession is losing ground every day in competition with the less expensive patent medicines and Christian Science; under socialism there will be no work for our army and navy, and the church has long ceased to be a lucrative profession worthy the sons of gentlemen. As for architects, contractors and other empire builders, do they not depend wholly upon the plumber for the triumphant consummation of their work?

The plumber is no overbearing aristocrat for nothing. The plumber knows his power. The plumber is king.

OUR INDUSTRIES AT STAKE.

The citrus fruit industry in Southern California represents an investment of $175,000,000, and an annual income to the state of $33,000,000, exclusive of transportation charges. The sugar beet factories of Southern California are valued at $10,000,000, and the best sugar industry represents an annual income of $17,500,000, an annual profit of $1,650,000. Twelve million dollars is circulated annually for labor.

Over 20,000 acres of walnuts were cultivated for the 1911 crop. Its value was $2,475,125.

Southern California produced 500,000 gallons of olive oil in 1910, an income of $1,250,000. Pickled olives realized an income of $800,000.

Los Angeles county has 5,693,000 bearing grape vines, which produce 37,500,000 pounds, valued at $450,000.

Eighty wineries produce 200,000 gallons of dry wine, $800,000, and sweet wine, 1,480,000 gallons at $445,800.

All these industries are dependent for their growth and success upon a protective tariff. Roosevelt, Johnson, Lissner, Henry, Kent and the imported spears, Beveridge and Pinchot, are his priests in the ranks of insurgency or so-called progressiveness, pledged to strangle by support of free trade measures all of the above-named industries.

An eastern scientist has extracted from seaweed a gum that it is said to be as strong as steel. But what the average girl wants to know is, will it stick to the underside of an old table?

There is one thing to be said to the credit of the visiting Shriners. They have hands with them that can play. And their hands generally heard on such occasions are an abomination.

The people all over the country will celebrate the anniversary of the birth of George Washington with increased interest next year—as that of a man who was great enough to refuse a third term.

The great groves of stink-barked orange and walnut trees beginning to bear leaves, the beautiful palms, the wilderness of flowers of every hue under the sun, a climate that makes young of old men, the uncapped mountains, the surging sea belted with bustling cities, hundreds of miles of road as level as a floor—these are some of the attractions to the visiting Shriners that Los Angeles has to offer. Don't miss the picture?

MARGARET ANGLI AT MAJESTY

SAN DIEGANS AT THE SAN BRIEL MISSION PLAY.

Henrietta Crozman Coming to the Mason Opera-house Next Monday in Her New Comedy, "The Road Thing"—Other Announcements for Other Playhouses.

The appearance of Margaret Angli at the Majestic Theater next week, a winning Monday night, because of the extraordinary interest because of "Green Stockings," the delightful play by A. E. W. Mason, she has for the first time in her career, leading comedy. The play has been a leading and successful run in New York and comes here direct from the Lagoon Theater in that city.

The comedy is in three acts, and the company supporting Miss Angli includes Reeves-Smith, Maude Granger, Willford Drycott and Gertrude Hilt.

This seems to be Mission Play for San Diego. The play will be replaced by the twenty-one missions, and the evening will be San Diego night at the play. Extensive reservations have been made for the whole house, and the play has been a success.

Last year Henry Kablerka, director and producer at San Gabriel, had charge of the mission pageant at San Diego, and designed and executed a remarkable pageant.

The mission play, in its own theater under the historic walls of San Gabriel Mission, has entered a run which would hardly be the author and his friends, but which has been highly profitable to the producing corporation.

Daily matinees are held this week, and will continue next week.

Seat sale for the engagement of Henrietta Crozman in her latest comedy, "The Road Thing," opens at the Mason Opera-house at 6 o'clock this morning. Judging from the mail orders already received, the indications are that Miss Crozman's engagement in this city will be a notable one. A special ladies' matinee will be given on Wednesday, with popular prices.

Lewis Stone, in the midst of the rehearsals of "The Virginian," in which he will make his reappearance next Monday night at the Majestic, tells the interviewer that he is delighted to find himself once more on the stage of the local Belasco; modestly admitting that he made a real success in his original role in "The Bird of Paradise" at the Maxine Elliott Theatre, New York; and that Broadway, New York, and winds up by the declaration that after spending a waiting time in his hopes, wishes, ambitions and desires, he is to find their fruition Monday night.

No such thoroughly complete and satisfactory performance as an emotional performance of the importance of Madame X as given by Muriel Starr. Her interpretation of the unfortunate heroine of the Belasco drama is profoundly and decidedly out of the ordinary.

It is a regrettable fact that the management of theatrical contracts make it necessary for Miss Starr to relinquish her position at the Belasco during the starring engagement of the Thurner Gods, for a limited period commencing next Sunday afternoon.

The part Miss Taylor will play is that of a beautiful, impetuous, young girl. Reports from the East admit that Taylor has been seen seeking the Thurner Gods, and vengeance she is a perpetual 1000 to be entitled to four representatives, which is 400 more than has been required in the past.

A resolution was introduced to have the Imperial representatives elected every four years, but it was laid on the table.

Robert Lashburn, of New Orleans, 85 years old, was made an emeritus member of the Imperial Council with rights and privileges.

He has attended twenty-six Shrine convocations as a representative.

John G. Hunter, of Dallas, Preston Babin, of Richmond, Va., J. Harry Lewis, of St. Paul, and S. B. Beecher, of Bridgeport, Ct., were made honorary members of the Imperial Council, the first time the honor has been conferred on any Shriner.

Noble Lewis is editor of the official Shrine magazine, "The Crescent."

APPLAUSE FOR HOST.

A resolution thanking Los Angeles for the splendid entertainment in honor of the visiting Shriners was unanimously adopted amid great applause.

The proposition of Past Imperial Potentate Fred A. Hines to purchase 300 acres of water front land on the shores of Lake Michigan for a permanent Shrine mecca was voted down. In all probability it will be brought up again next year.

When the gorgeous ceremonial robes were put on the new Imperial Potentate the delegates nearly raised the roof with raucous cheering. The session continued from 10 o'clock until nearly 6 p.m. A buffet luncheon was served in the basement during the afternoon.

"I haven't very much to say," said the new Shrine master, the Alexandria, La., Potentate, "but I am proud to be elected Imperial Potentate and to represent the Shrine in this city."

Imperial Potentate Cunningham is a leading real estate and insurance man in Baltimore. He is a bachelor and is 60 years old. He joined the Shrine in 1908. Twenty-one years ago and has been a representative seventeen years.

"I guess I'm the first bachelor to be elected Imperial Potentate he remarked, as his face wrinkled.

Past Imperial Potentate Treat called on his successor at the hotel last night and the two remained in conversation for several minutes.

"Good luck to you," said Treat as he departed.

DIODEGEN NUMBER TWO.

"Honest Bob" they call him. He is Robert Miller, treasurer of Mecca Temple for so long that only the faithful of the present generation could tell the exact day he went on the job.

The idea of one so honest residing in New York is almost beyond conception, but it is Miller's ancestral uncle, Diodegen, were to happen back to this mundane sphere and to land in New York, he might be able to locate his distant relative without the use of a lantern. Other Shriners would point him out. With a temple of more than 10,000 members, the treasury carries over $200,000, and with other valuable assets, and naturally it needs a man of clean character to handle the position.

Worth Knowing

More money is going into Home Building shares than into any other form of investment, because they provide a fully protected, dividend-paying income which assures the best possible return on the investment.

The Reason for This

Los Angeles is the fastest growing city in the world today, because there is only one Los Angeles and only one Southern California.

A constant stream of gold is pouring into this city. The life accumulations of men of affairs, salaried men and farmers, and this condition will continue indefinitely. It is the home port of the whole country.

They Buy Homes

This creates a phenomenal demand for homes and building sites, and makes the Home Building business staple, profitable and an exceptional investment opportunity.

There are several thousand Commonwealth shareholders, and among them many representative business and professional men. The company is very successful and prosperous. Quarterly dividends are paid.

Commonwealth Home Builders shares are a safe, profitable security, protected by first mortgages on Los Angeles property.

Call and we will explain our methods and show results attained, and believe Commonwealth Home Builders' shares will appeal to you as a high-class investment.

You can buy any amount you want on easy payments. $3.00 down and $1.50 a month will start you. Shares now selling for 30 cents. 10 per cent. down, balance 5 per cent. per month. Provide an income for your future which will fully protect you.

Secure our sixty-four page booklet on co-operation, very instructive and interesting. Only a limited number on hand (free.)

Without expense or obligation to myself, please mail me booklet and Commonwealth Monthly and oblige.

KHARTUM BAND.

These nine Highlanders, with bagpipes and drums, are members of the Royal Canadian Militia, where they have served seven years, and are now under leave to play for Khartum Temple in charge of Capt. W. O. Randolph.

MUTAT TEMPLE BAND.

Sixteen members of the Indianapolis Military Band, doubling in brass and strings, form the Temple Band, enlivening the journey with dance and song. Their funny stunts were a feature of Monday night's vaudeville.

Director—Paul Kraus; piccolo, H. Kaiser; cornets, W. Natchell, Charles Keifer; clarinets, A. Kuenst, E. Macneil; trombones, H. G. H. Winterthorff; alto clarinet, H. W. Klausmann; bassoon, Walter Heger; baritone, Noble Howard; tuba, J. Camerun; cymbals, J. Kraus; snare drum, J. Goll; bass drum, E. Schaefer.

EL MINA BAND.

Manager, David H. Lawrence; director, P. H. Natchell; piccolo, W. A. Shaw; clarinets, O. C. Reidrich, J. H. Muenster, J. H. Bloomer, H. Falkenhagen, Felix Stella, E. C. Williams; cornets, L. L. Kelsey, H. H. H. H. Julius Seasholtz, Louis Cox, T. H. Lawrence; milliphone, E. C. Brook; alto, William Irving, Louis Schenckler; J. H. Benson, Z. B. Saunders; trombones, C. M. Woolston, C. J. These thirty members are all business and professional men, and have been organized as a band for eight years.

EL KATIE BAND.

This is strictly a Shrine band, composed of thirty professional and business men, who play only in this organization. They have been organized for four years, and now have an extensive library of wide musical range with full equipment of modern instruments and parade and fatigue uniforms. The following players are present:

Director, A. R. Reemer; solo cornet, Dr. A. R. Reemer; cornet, W. H. Plough; piccolo, John Hoppe; clarinet, W. W. Harrington, J. Brown; bass clarinet, Dr. E. D. Olmsted; tenor saxophone, Stillwell; French horn, C. Lucas; alto, Dickenson; trombones, H. Johnston, Charles Larkin; bass drum, Thomas Penn; bass, S. O. Berg; Poase, Geo. J. Birkel, Los Angeles drum, Edgint; bass drum, Peris.

MIZPAH NOMAD BAND.

Leader, John L. Verweil; cornets, John L. Verweil, Mosler, C. M. Fuller; clarinet, Carl L. Schneider; alto, C. C. Schlotter, Louis Schroeder; Frank Green, Dr. Rahmy; baritone, Charles Verweil, R. Parks White; trombones, James M. Dewey, Charles Wheeler; tuba, John Becker; drums, Brown Coper, Earl Waterman, Charles King. Organized in 1910 and played at Rochester last year.

This band of thirty-one was formed within the year entirely from Shrine membership, all its members taking part in deliberations of the convention. Doubling in strings, they make a telling orchestra in both classical and popular music.

ISLAM TEMPLE BAND.

Leader, G. Bennett; piccolo, H. G. Hill; clarinets, D. R. Sewell, N. H. Serpherg, L. Ingalls, C. H. Robinson, E. C. Diebold, E. C. Odus; cornets, H. Scott, R. H. McIntire, W. F. Alvertiser, T. BOSTON STORE WINS AWARD.

UNANIMOUS CHOICE OF DECORATION COMMITTEE.

Magnificent Display of Broadway Building Includes Great Canvases, Emblematic Pictures and Multi-tude of Flags—Honorable Mention for Five Other Buildings.

The most beautifully decorated building in Los Angeles, in the opinion of the members of the committee of award, is the Boston store at 150 Broadway, which was awarded the honor of being the most decorated building in the city.

The committee, which was appointed last week by W. T. Jeffries, chairman of the Committee on Decoration, is composed of Mrs. A. L. Damskin, Mrs. Stephen C. Hubbell, Mrs. W. J. Barlow, Mrs. Wm. M. Garland and Mrs. Randolph Hunter.

Garland and Hunter have made daily tours of inspection since.

It did not take the committee long to decide that the decorations, as a whole, were the best they had ever seen, but to pick out the one which should be adjudged better than any of the others, proved a formidable task.

It was not until yesterday afternoon that the final tour of inspection resulted in the unanimous choice of the Boston store, whose magnificent display had early attracted their favorable attention.

The ladies of the committee, in making their report, also made honorable and favorable mention of the decorations of the Examiner, Niles Poase, Geo. J. Birkel, Los Angeles Trust and Savings Company and Beeman Hendee buildings.

The Boston store's display is not only elaborate, but is artistically and beautifully arranged and is wonderfully effective either in day or night time. It represents not only great expense, but much time and care.

The central feature is an enormous canal more than two feet high and surrounded by a score of more or less pictures and Shrine emblems. Above and about the panorama, are a myriad flags, draped in crescent form, while electric lights are effectively distributed throughout the entire decoration scheme. The display covers the entire store, including the annex and extends to the roof. The award carries with it a cash prize of $250.

LOVE'S TANGLE CATCHES THREE.

Triplicity of Life of Dead Man Revealed.

Had Often Been Threatened by Jealous Woman.

On Eve of Death He Plans for His Wife.

Three women figure in the love tangle which led to the shooting of Peter Walker and the suicide of the woman who killed him. Investigation of the suicide and murder yesterday showed that Walker, who was a wealthy contractor, was killed because the woman who killed him believed he intended to desert her and return to his wife.

Walker was one of the best-known contractors in Southern California. He was interested in a number of state and government projects and built several of the boulevards out of Los Angeles for the state. He built the Foothill boulevard, which stretches away from Los Angeles along the foothills to Glendale and the surrounding country.

According to the story told yesterday by J. M. Johnson, a real estate dealer in the Consolidated Realty building, Walker had been threatened with death a number of times by the woman who finally killed him. Two weeks ago Walker was told that he

PRESS AGENT NEEDED.

One Who Can Tell All the People Who Champ Clark Is and Why He Is a Candidate.

Despite the efforts of the Democratic campaign committees for publicity, there are some voters, evidently, who do not know yet who the Bourbon candidates are. There is one woman voter, anyway.

"What's the number of Champ Clark's headquarters?" a seeker for would be killed by this woman. At that time the woman who killed him took chloroform and was only saved from death by the arrival of a physician.

FROM GOOD FAMILY.
Mrs. Anna Dewey, who killed Walker, is said to be the daughter of a prominent resident of Oklahoma, an ex-Congressman. Her sister resides in Haskell, Okla. Yesterday her sister telegraphed for full details of the tragedy.

The story behind the suicide and murder is replete with romance. Walker left his wife six months ago because he was in love with another woman.

Johnson asserted yesterday he had known Walker several times and knew that Walker had been threatened with death. "It was certain this woman would kill him," Johnson declared yesterday. "She had threatened to take his life several times. Peter was separated from his wife and had been living at the Sheffield Apartments with Mrs. Dewey."

Mrs. Dewey was not more than 24 years of age. She separated from her husband six months ago. Mrs. Walker lived in Los Angeles and for some time she had been trying to effect a reconciliation with her husband. Walker is believed to have arranged to return to his wife and when he told Mrs. Dewey he intended doing so there was a quarrel which culminated in Mrs. Dewey taking poison.

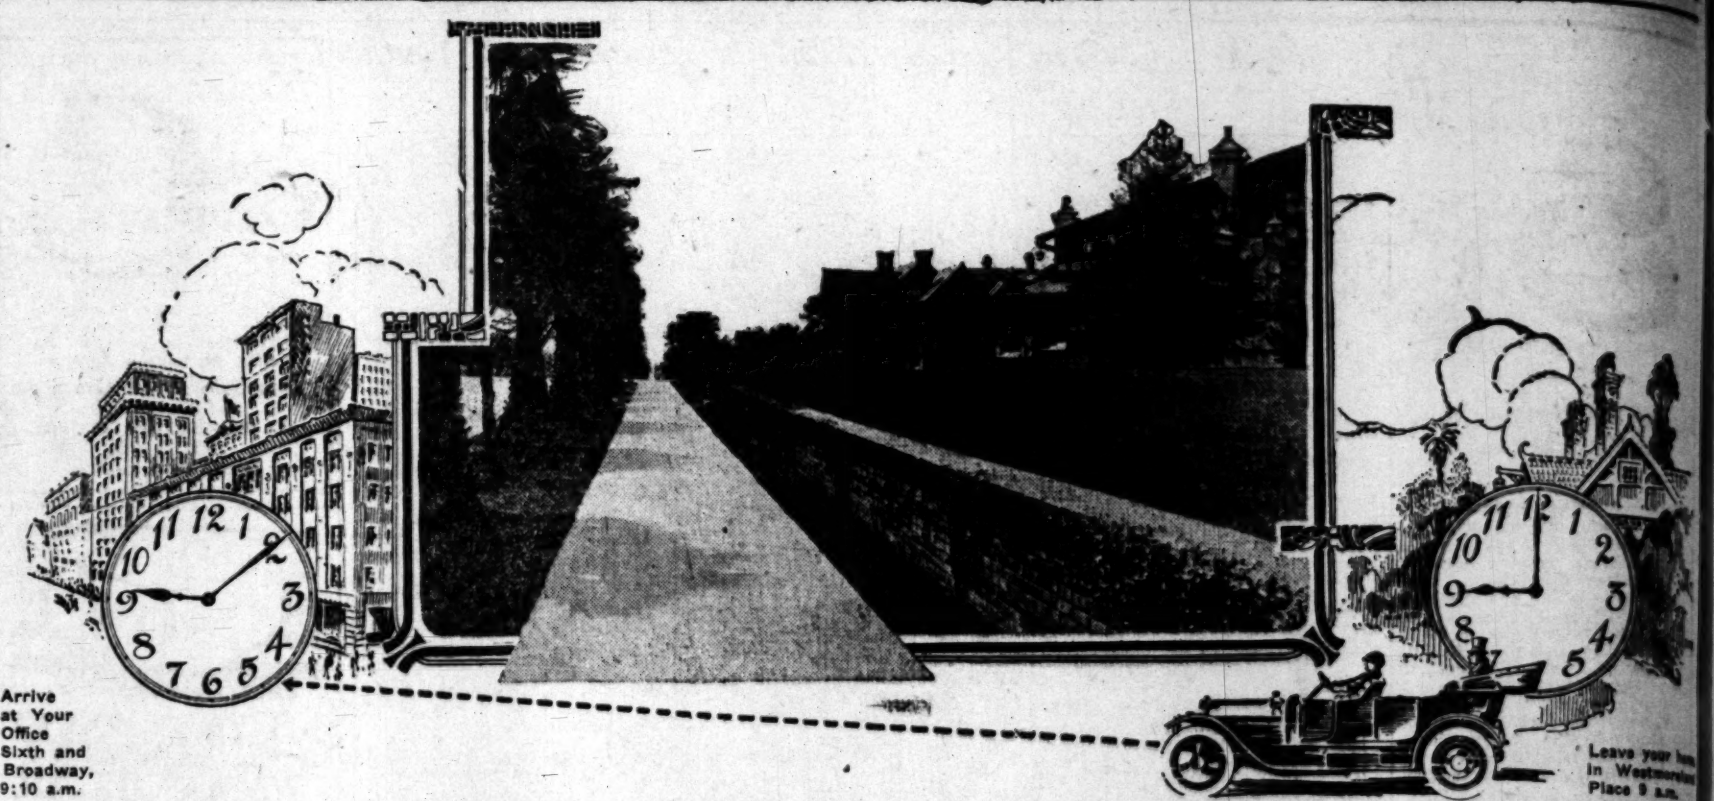

The police assert Walker had been drinking and dining a number of women. According to them he was frequently seen in cafes in the business district with a woman known as Vera. He was also seen in company with another woman.

THINKING OF WIFE.
A week ago Walker took out an insurance policy for $5000, payable to his wife. He was arranging to take out another policy when he was killed.

Walker was wealthy and wore diamonds valued at $5000. He had a diamond stud valued at $4000. This was found concealed in his underclothing after his body had been removed to the morgue.

The Consolidated Realty building, where Walker had his office, has been the scene of several tragedies this year. Viola Carver shot J. Edwin Edge in his office just across the corridor from Walker's office. Two weeks ago a janitress took poison in the building in an effort to commit suicide.

Westmoreland Place--Los Angeles' Residential Masterpiece

Unrivalled Natural Beauty 10 Minutes from Broadway

Travelers from the world over who have visited Los Angeles and been charmed with the beauty of her residence communities, have called Westmoreland Place "Queen of all her famous beauty spots." Here one may dwell in quiet and seclusion, amid surpassing picturesque beauty and still be within ten minutes auto distance from the heart of the city, and in close proximity to theatrical, school and church centers.

Westmoreland Place is a magnificent park of forty acres, beautifully laid out in commodious homesites. All inside building lots are 100x200 feet, while the corners are all 150x200 feet. This entire property was set out years ago to the rarest ornamental trees and shrubs and now presents a wealth of scenic beauty unsurpassed in California.

Westmoreland Place enjoys every metropolitan convenience and advantage of the highest type. All electric wiring is underground, with the consequent exclusion of unsightly poles—and every improvement throughout is in thorough keeping with the high character of the property.

Owing to the nearness of Westmoreland Place to the center of affairs, it is an ideal dwelling place for the busy business man who appreciates the value of his time and the many other practical advantages nearness to downtown affords.

The extraordinary growth of Los Angeles—the extremely limited amount of close-in, high-class property—and the fact that there is now a constantly increasing demand for property of this nature—assure ever-increasing intrinsic value to Westmoreland Place frontage. Present prices in Westmoreland Place are extremely reasonable and afford an investment opportunity that cannot be duplicated in this city. which were made by C. J. White & Co., No. 43 and 49 Exchange place, New York, N. Y., for the Southern California Gas Company, and a careful detailed inventory by Prof. C. L. Cory of the State university at Berkeley. His conclusions and findings were examined and concurred in by C. B. Kolner, consulting engineer, who is an authority on gas plants and values, who also concurs with the board's engineer in the gas rates recommended.

The appraisal of the Union Hollywood, the Sunset and Hawthorne water companies were made by the board's engineer and his assistants. The appraisal for fixing telephone rates were made by Mr. Park, the board's accountant, a man of wide experience in telephone work. He made a careful examination in all its phases, which enabled the board to fix a rate they believe to be fair and just.

In making these appraisals Mr. Park used as a basis the inventory of Mr. Miller and Mr. Sloan, telephone experts formerly employed by the board and the city, together with additions of the companies for the past two years, which were thoroughly checked by him.

AUTO VICTIM DIES.
No Inquest, as Relatives Believe Collision Was Result of Unavoidable Accident.

Mrs. Emma Sheldon, wife of C. F. Sheldon, who sustained a fractured skull in an auto accident at West Third and South Figueroa streets late Tuesday night, died at the Pacific Hospital yesterday morning. Coroner Hartwell, upon the request of C. B. Smith, the woman's brother, will not hold an inquest. Final funeral arrangements have not been made.

At the time of the accident Mrs. Sheldon was riding with her brother and niece. They were returning home after witnessing the Shrine and electric parades. Their machine collided with that of E. W. Knowlton, who lives at No. 822 Arbor street, Pasadena. The car was driven by E. Carlson, son of William H. Carlson, a former banker of this city.

SPRITIST CASES ARE DISMISSED.

CITY PROSECUTOR DROPS CASES AGAINST "MEDIUMS."

Complainant and Chief Witness in Bald Seance Frauds by Alleged Importers Skips Town Without Hindrance and Without Giving His Evidence.

City Prosecutor Eddie is not going to prosecute Mrs. Adella Carnahan and Mrs. Carrie N. Sawyer, "spiritualists." Although he has on file in his office a statement to the effect that they are medium fakers, he ordered that the cases worked up against them by Detective Lloyd of the League of Justice be dismissed and the defendants discharged. His motion was granted in Police Judge Chambers' court yesterday.

Eddie gives as his reason that his complaint against the two confessed fakers, but the contractor refused. Eddie thereupon decided he was powerless to act further, and turned the women out of jail.

The alleged fakers were arrested April 3 at their home on Orange street, on a complaint signed by Bismant, charging them with conspiracy and fraud. They made representations to him that they could hold occult powers whereby they could hold occult communication with his deceased wife. Bismant invested in $30 worth of "communication."

In their confessions, which were secured through the instrumentality of Detective Lloyd, Mrs. Sawyer admitted that she had no such power, and that it was she who represented herself to be the spirit of the deceased Mrs. Bismant. Every statement made by Mrs. Carnahan remained in jail. They had the moral support of other alleged mediums and spiritualists in the city, some of whom made the open boast that the defendants would never be brought to trial. When arraigned the women begged to converse with Bismant, declaring that they could see him for a few minutes because he was able to "fix the thing up." The request was denied because it was feared the women had such control of influence over the contractor that they would be able to induce him to drop the prosecution or leave the city.

ABLES PULLS TIGERS' CLAWS.

Big Oakland Heaver Gets Away With Another Game.

Whale Harpooned to a Finish
in First Four Innings.

Sharpe Has to Quit Game on Account of Injury.

BY GREY OLIVER.

Oakland, 5; Vernon, 4.
Too much Ables.
Any team that thinks this is a josh
should take a chance like the Tigers did yesterday. Los Angeles tried it twice last week and the same thing happened that you saw yesterday.
Seems to be no use trying to pick
this bird. Pretty wild yesterday too, at that, but he had the Tigers breaking their backs swinging at what he had.

"He wastes the fast one of his
and then he just lobs over that slow one," murmured a Vernon swatter, after the game, "and sometimes you can't do anything with either of them."
This may be one reason for losing and it may not, but whatever the real one is the Tigers had a hard time clawing their way around the bases.
Ables got away in the fourth and sixth innings and when he found the Tigers were about to take a couple of falls out of him he turned the set screw and shut them off. None of them got to first base in the seventh,
eighth and ninth innings.

The Whale started out to pitch for the Tigers, but after the Oaks had knocked eight hits and five runs off
him in the second, third and fourth innings, he kept on for three more innings and although he stopped them they harpooned him enough before that.

The Whale looked like a winner in the first inning for none of the Oaks got to first base, but in the second they lammed him to a frazzle. Coy began with an infield single and Zacher poled one to the center fence.
Hettinger also kicked the next one off
the center fence for a double that scored both Coy and Zacher. This began the inning and Sharpe's out at first put Helling on third and he raced in when Mitze slammed one to left.
Later on Cook beat out an infield single. Pretty good for one inning.

In the very next one with two out,
more doubts by Zacher and Helling scored another run and the final one arrived in the fourth.
Mitze was safe at first when Hesp
threw his grounder over Pat's head.
After Cook had poled out Zacher's pass sent Ables to second. C. Patterson single put him on third and then with the bases full and two out the Whale began to blow again and passed Coy, forcing in what proved to be the winning run.

Nothing more doing for the Oaks
for the Whale got mad after all this and sunk 'em just about as fast as they appeared. Lot of them got on,
but couldn't get around.

With the score 5 to 0 against them
in the last half of the fourth the Tiger went in to make some and managed to get two by a combination of swats. Kane and Patterson singled and both went and Patterson based on the throw in of the ball. Kane scored on Brashers' infield out and a wild pitch put Hesp Patterson over. Right after this Speed McDowell lammed out a double to right and Hesp was safe at first when Cook heaved his grounder wildly, but none of this stuff helped another run for Speed was caught off third and Hurler popped to Leard.

Hesp Patterson got through with another single in the sixth and Brash-ers followed with a pass. Both advanced on McDowell's out and both scored when Hesp's single bounced over Cook's head.

Then Ables began to mow the Tigers down and all of them died a natural death before they could reach first base. The score:

Morrow to Fight Petroskey.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Howard Morrow, the Chicago middleweight, and Sailor Petroskey, of San Francisco, were matched here today to fight ten rounds
before the Oakland Whelmen's Club, Wednesday night, May 22. The men will fight at catch weights.

Tabulated Dope on Conley and White.
Who meet tomorrow at Vernon over the twenty-round route. Ages: White, 25; Conley, 24. Weight, 123 at 11 a.m.

FIGHT WILL BE SAVAGE.

Jack White Is Hitting Like
a Mule Kicks.

Conley Will Take His Peave
Out on Jack.

Fighters Will Frolic With Sailors Today.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

Jack White and Frankie Conley
will be traveling on their return-trip tickets tomorrow afternoon in the Vernon Arena, and somebody is going to have his hip punched "void" before the evening shades fall, as the poet would say. Both have been set back by Joe Rivers, and this is the chance to get square with the public.
When two fellows whose feet into the same ring at the same time, there is likely to be one hour of real warm weather, before the difference, as to class, is finally settled.

In speaking of the two boys, it would be well to note that White seems to be in the best fighting shape, and with that, has more reserve steam up his elbow, that is if the workouts can be taken as any criterion. Conley is an aggressive mauling fighter, with little or no real boxing ability, winning his fights and losing them with the same aggressive style, being all over his opponent
from the bell to bell.

On the other hand Jack White thinks when he hits, and a man of this type has something on any other style before the start is made. After seeing Jack White work out for the past two days, it seems hardly believable that he is the same boy who was dragged out of the Vernon ring after Joe Rivers got through with him. And we are forced to admit that the wallop in the second round of that fight was the one that did the business, because it was the Hawaii
White today.

Yesterday he was almost savage, as Monte Allen, who worked with him, said.

YACHT HAWAII SAILS FOR SAN PEDRO RACE.

HONOLULU, May 8.—The yacht, Hawaii, flying the burgee of the Honolulu Yacht Club, sailed today for Los Angeles to enter the Los Angeles to Honolulu yacht race in June.
Four Pacific Coast yachts complete this year's entries in the annual race.
Capt. W. H. Shroud of Honolulu is in command with a crew of eleven amateur sailors—some of them not so
"amateur" either.

"Mike" Center is first mate; Fred Frederick, second. The other members of the crew are, W. O'Brien, R.
T. Stacker, James Blaisdell, Robert McClory, Columbus Sims sails as cabin boy. There are two old tar sailors and a cook.
Center was for two years at Annapolis and studied the art of navigation with a correspondence school. Frederick came to Hawaii in the Mollou
under "Drydock Smith." Blaisdell has seen something of life on the raging main, having made a trip around the Horn and served as quartermaster on the American-Hawaii line. None of this year's crew sailed with the Hawaii in 1910.

Carl Dodson, a member of the South Coast Yacht Club will make the voyage as a guest of the Hawaii Yacht Club.
"We consider our chief rivals this year to be the Seafarer of San Francisco and the Lurline of Los Angeles," said Capt. Shroud yesterday. "The Lurline won the 1906 and 1908 races but was not entered last year. She is the one we expect to give us our close-est rub. The Lurline is 88 feet overall—18 feet longer than the Hawaii.
I don't know what the ketch that is entered from Vancouver can do."

The Hawaii's mast, jib, boom and rail have been scraped and her spars finished. A new set of sails has been ordered from Chicago, and will be waiting for the Hawaii at San Pedro.

A new main boom will also be added
to the equipment.

NEW RIVAL FOR HAP ON COACHING LINE.

Hap Hogan has at last been up against someone who can beat him coaching, and this one is Cy Parsons of the Oakland team. Cy is there with mouth, feet and tongue. Hap is surely up against a live one in this bird and is liable to lose his championship.

One manager in this league says that Nagle, Dillon and some other fellow are better coaches, and that a fellow has to have brains to coach Neville. All he needs is a tongue, a foot and two hands. Cy has all these.
He may not be able to beat Christy Mathewson pitching, but he can make Matty look like a two-spot getting men around the bases. All Mat does is to keep them from going around.

TULARE MANAGER HERE.

W. H. Wall, manager of the Tulare club in the San Joaquin Valley league, is a visitor to the city. The ball magazine graduated from the lots of this city when the grass was growing on Broadway and took up the duties of manager for an eastern professional club, later returning to the valley town where he now resides.

Roy Silent Is Honored.

dramatics.

POMONA WINS EXCITING GAME.

Sage Hens Defeat U.S.C. in Eleventh Inning.

Haskell and Becker Put Up
Pitchers' Battle.

Harry Kingman Hero of Three-to-two Contest.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

CLAREMONT (Cal.) May 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The hair-raising stuff in the baseball line was at its highest here today when Pomona refused to be beaten and tied the score in the ninth. The agony after that was worse until the last of the eleventh when Kingman doubled and scored Shutt, the final score being 3 to 2.

All the way through it was a pitchers' battle and it was only due to the fact that Haskell had two bad innings, while Becker only had one that the game was won by the Sage Hens.

The story of the game may be told by those three innings. In the first Byram walked and came home when Haskell hit the ball through the fence for a home run.

TWO RUNS IN THE FIRST.

This made the score 3 to 0 in favor of the "Golden" and there it remained until the last of the ninth.
In this period Edwards walked and went to third when Edwards hoisted was thrown out at second, when Shutt grounded to third. Kingman hit an easy one to the infield and beat it out, but Shutt was thrown out at third trying to steal. Daniels singled to right putting Kingman on third and both of them scored when Durrell singled to right and the ball twisted out of Miller's reach. This made the score 3 to 2, for Barnes, the next man, fanned.

In the first of the tenth it was only by tight pitching that Becker saved his team another score. Rives fanned Decker walked and stole second and
went to third when Edwards hoisted Shutt's throw. Spotted singled to center and took his rightful place at second. It looked like a score, but Becker fanned the next two men.

HASKELL HARD TO HIT.

Nothing happened after that, until the last of the eleventh, when Haskell hit Shutt and Shutt scored on Kingman's double into a tree in center field.

The mighty Millikan almost cut off Shutt's run by getting the ball into the infield with a good wing.

Although Becker had nineteen fan-outs to Haskell's eleven, Haskell was not as greatly outclassed as it might seem and in only the two innings was he hit at all.

CONFERENCE MEET FOR LOS ANGELES.

Los Angeles may get the Pacific Coast intercollegiate conference meet next season. After the meet last Saturday, the managers of the various teams which competed, met in the faculty clubhouse on the California campus, and discussed
the future of the conference
meets.

The support given by the bay cities was not at all encouraging and it was decided that Los Angeles, Seattle or Portland would be the best places to hold the meet next year.

Dr. Hall of the University of Washington, stated that Seattle would bid high for the meet and A. M. Geary, graduate manager of the University of Oregon, stated that Portland would also offer induc-ments; but Coach Egan of Pomona College stated that Los Angeles would be equally eager to have the meet, and would make good offers of support.

You Can't Blame the Wop Much for Taking Mr. Wad for a Turk in His Arab Patrol Scenery Can You?

Report has it that the Rugby bug is working at Occidental and next to the Tigers may be seen out in the short pants and low-necked jerseys. If this is the case, it will be right in line with the rest of the college policy followed by the Tigers. The South will have to come to the English game eventually as with Stanford and Berkeley in the North, and U.S.C. with all the larger High Schools in the South playing the game the rest of the southern colleges will soon be left out in the cold.

Here is the point, the athletes and money from the various high schools in the South are going to attend the college or university that plays the game they understand, and not go where they will have to learn something new, therefore, these students will go to Stanford, Berkeley or the University of Southern California. Few many of the local southern colleges want to see the flower of the southern athletic world go North U.S.C. and not just season, and now seeing the English game and getting the students. What we want is a solid South in athletics, and one that will be able to show those who have something around the bay. Rugby has come to stay on the Pacific Coast, and good or bad, the way to better conditions is to pull together and in the course of the next five years get something out of the English game. It has just said and can be developed.

Better, the Pomona College southern, has something on the ball all right. Yesterday he fanned nine of the heavy-hitting U.S.C. team, and for this is slated for an all-southern meet without a doubt. He has no new hard name before the final decision can be rendered, and that is next Saturday afternoon with Oxy on the Tiger field, and if he gets away in the same shape here, he will be the all-star goods.

Jack Merrick and Fred Gilmore put up a dandy little three-round scrap yesterday afternoon at Venice. If Fred loses on boxing, Merrick the latter party may get to be a real fighter in time. Gilmore is fast and smart and would make a good match for any of the fast westerners in the ring right now. Let's get busy boys.

Mad as Atlas. We have another boxing party for Mexico and right in our midst, at that. Sunday morning Jack Merrick and Harry Gilmore leave for El Paso, where Merrick goes into training for battle with James, Mex. with Kid Mitchell.

It seems that several wealthy Americans are interested in a fight with Gilmore to open festivities and that if he likes the place to take over the club. They can fight that forty-round stuff there and if the people can't get it, it ought to make some money. Merrick is twenty-two years old, let's hope he wins.

Billie by side Wolcott and Ritchie are training for their four-round bout Saturday afternoon. The two trainees are only ten feet apart, so Ritchie likes to work by the beach and Wolcott would not work anywhere else, so he had to take to the water. This is rich for the fans and some other chaps are held every afternoon along the golden sands of the beach.

We have it from St. Louis that Ad Wolcott will be seen in action there on May 17 with Freddie Daniels, a lightweight of the same center, and it will be the twelfth annual Intercollegiate conference conference and more are coming. Stanford and Berkeley will represent the West and Coast with Oregon and Washington.

Mary Tenbrook who was to have been the star of the night at the preliminary, hurt his right arm and Jack Clark who was to have been the star of the night, they are fast and they are in shape now and will be a real fight.

The boxing bill that is before the Senate is the best chance of passing the bill. This means that Kid Dallas will get his chance after he has been on July 4 with Louis Brown.

California Intercollegiate pennant will go to the Hens this season without a shadow of doubt, or turning it will make two straight from the Tigers and already the Hens have taken the Trojan down the line in big time, two in a row.

The Pomona team is about one of the fastest college aggregations ever developed in the south and has stood the staff of the whole season, which is more than U.S.C. could do and leave Harmony in the clubhouse.

SAILOR SLUGGERS AFTER SCRIBES.

This afternoon the sailor ball players of the U.S.S. Maryland will meet the "Pins" Bodies of the local Pink sheets on the new Venice diamond. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock, and promises to be the real goods.

Ray Hunt will be seen in the role behind the platter where he will be given a chance to catch the "deck paddlers" that footed off the second cushion. The last appearance of this near back stop was a scream, and his performance today is calculated to attract the attention of some of the managers of the real money-getting bands, and we will not be surprised to see the half playing sport writer in the bush at an early date.

"Christy Mathewson" Bird will operate the gun for the dope shooters and will have his full collection of breasers in the box. This tall one of the press world made a great showing in a game with some sporting goods merchants a short time ago, and is expected to hold the "bars" to a few scattered connections.

Other members of the profession will be out to do their best in upholding their reputations made in the old days, and the contest should be a classy affair.

BILL HIMROD CALLS ON LOCAL FRIENDS.

"Bill" Himrod, the old Pomona miler, who held the Coast record of 4m. 24.4s. until last Saturday, when McClure of Washington shattered it and put the figures at 4m. 24.4s., was in town yesterday and called on his old friend, Willie Robb.

The late champion is a practicing attorney at present with offices in Bishop, Cal., where he is prospering in a business way and dabbling in sport whenever the chance presents itself.

There is an abundance of good trout fishing around Bishop and Himrod has developed into an expert with the rod. He spends much of his spare time along the streams.

BERT ELLING TO GO.

Bert Elling will leave for San Francisco Sunday morning in an Overland roadster, accompanied by two friends. The party will spend some time in the mountains above Fresno where hunting and fishing will delay their arrival in the northern city.

Fighting Dick Hyland, Who will box an exhibition bout at Salt Lake with Joe Rivers.

ANGELS SHUT OUT THE SEALS.

Fluke in the First Brings in Only Score.

Leverenz Pitches for Seven Innings Without Hit.

Noyes Proves He Too Is a Classy Twirler.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was a pitchers' duel out at Recreation Park today with Walter Leverenz and Wynn Noyes occupying the points and Los Angeles won by a 1 to 0 score.

Aside from the inability of the Seals to connect safely with the horsehide the Angels won the game directly on a fluke. The fluke came in the very first inning. Howard was fanned in the first, and the Seals were out in short order, but the deadly base on balls was doled out to Berger. Daley sent a grounder to short and died at first and this play figured some in the run getting, for Corban overlooked a chance to get the speedy Berger before he reached second.

However, that may be, the heavy hitting Helmsmiller was at bat and raised a dinky foul fly about fifteen feet above the third base line. It was the easiest kind of a chance, but Catcher Schmidt proceeded to mull it.

When Helmsmiller dropped a "Texas Leaguer" in center field it proved a most costly mull, too, for Berger raced home with the only run of the game.

At the time the error was made, it was not regarded seriously for it was thought that the Seals would get to the southpaw slugging of Leverenz, but there is where one grand piece of prognostication went astray.

LEVERENZ IS A STAR.

Leverenz went ahead and bowled over the Seals as if they were so many tin cans. In seven innings he did not allow a hit or a run or any description. The fact that only eighteen men, an average of the scheduled three per inning, faced him.

In the fourth Raftery did manage to draw a base on balls, but a moment later he was thrown out trying to steal second.

Visions of a no-run, no-hit game arose for the Angels were backing up Leverenz in faultless manner. But the break happened in the eighth.

With two out on short pop flies to Howard, Melver replaced Jackson at bat and was walked. Altman flew out to Daley after a questionable couple of strikes had been called on him.

Right here Corban flashed the hit and run signal and while Howard went to cover second he placed a single in right field that might have been captured if Howard had been in position.

Schmidt forced Melver at third and Johnson was substituted for Noyes. Johnson hit the ball a terrific clip, but it fell into Lober's waiting hands.

SEALS LOSE CHANCE.

The Seals had another chance in the seventh. Raftery walked for the second time, and by some nimble work on the bases, pliffers second and third in quick succession. The grand effort went for naught, however, as the slugging Chick Hartley, grounded out to Howard for the third out.

Again in the ninth the Seals managed to squeeze a man on the bases as the result of Tompkins' sharp base hit to center, a hit that was a clean hit position and he only laced a long drive to left, which Lober took for the third out. This ended the game.

Pitches Noyes was one of the big surprises. He has done rescue work on several occasions, but he did not give out the impression that he is capable of pitching the ball he did today. He had everything, keeping the hits well scattered and when he did get in a hole he was there in the pinch. Besides this, Noyes walked only one man and fanned five of the Angels' heavy hitters.

WITT VAN COURT'S COLUMN.

Game men are usually considered so from the fact that they can take punishment without flinching. But the gamest fellow I ever saw was a little man that could not take punishment at all. Gameness comes from the heart and not through a tough skin. It was during my early experiences at the Olympic Club in San Francisco that I met this fellow with a heart of a lion. His name was Fred Larkin and he was the champion fencer of the club.

A very stylish dresser, in fact, was called the dude of the club. He became interested in boxing just for the exercise he got from it. Several of the boys were very anxious to get at him, just to lick him for fun, but I would not allow him to box with anyone but myself. He was joshed, challenged and kidded from all sides, until he became desperate.

One night he said to me, "I am going into the next boxing tournament and I want you to train me for it. I know that I will get a licking, but I want to take it before the whole club, just to show them that I am game enough to take it."

I tried hard to talk him out of the idea, as we usually had a bunch of tough fellows from South of Market street in that class and was afraid he would get hurt, but he would have none of that kind of talk; he was determined to enter. I took him in hand and trained him very thoroughly. He never lost his grit for a moment. When his name appeared in the list of entries, he was made more fun of than ever, but this made him all the more determined.

It was just his luck to draw with the toughest fellow in the 115-pound class, and I thought it was all off with him. When he entered the ring there was a howl of delight from the crowd. The most beautiful article of the thought that he was going to get licked. But imagine their surprise when they saw him fight. He fought like a tiger for three rounds and nearly won by a knockout. It was a walk out of the ring.

What a pity we do not have such champions of boxing in this country.

Nothing is more pitiable. On the other hand, look at two boxers. No unnecessary words, no temper, just the calm of two certainties, each knowing what he has got to do. The athletic pose of the body on guard, one of the most beautiful of the virile form, logically exposes all the muscles of the frame. Three blows, not more; the technical training, the mathematical training, the thousand unnecessary possibilities entertained by those who do not know, etc., etc.

For my part, there are two classes of people: those who judge a thing without having seen it, and those who will not give themselves the trouble to see a thing before criticizing it. Same thing, you say? Yes, and they ought to be boiled in the same oil.

What a pity we do not have such champions of boxing in this country.

SHARPE PUT OUT BY AGNEW'S SPIKES.

From present appearances, Manager Bud Sharpe of the Oakland team will be out of the game for a week or longer. In the second inning when Agnew of the Tigers was on first he took a big lead off and Mike tried to throw him out.

Mitze did it all right, but in diving feet first back to the bag Agnew stuck his foot up and accidentally spiked Sharpe just above the right knee, the cruel iron making a gash big enough to set a hen in, almost. Of course, Sharpe had to quit the game, and will be out indefinitely. Hard luck, for he is a very popular fellow.

GIROT DEFEATED BY BASE ON BALLS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—Portland's recruit pitcher Girot, held the locals to four scattered hits today but was outwitted by his passes, forcing in the only run of the day for a 1 to 0 victory for Sacramento.

The visitors hit Williams for a triple, a double and five singles but could not bunch their hits for a score. Kreitz, the new Sacramento catcher from the Chicago White Sox, played his first game but had his finger dislocated by a foul off Krueger's bat in the sixth.
